

Latham Publishing

Dear Club Member,

Latham Publishing is the creator and producer of the fine art print "Classic Dry Flies."

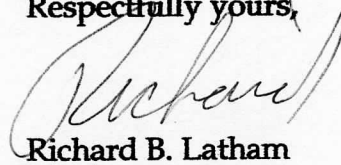

We are proud to announce that we are offering this print wholesale to Club Members. I have enclosed a sample for you to inspect.

This print took one year to produce. We used quality grade, acid-free, rag content paper to ensure lasting color for years to come. Each print is individually lithographed, carefully inspected, then signed and numbered by the artist. After the print run was completed, the negatives and plates were destroyed.

I believe you will agree that this print is of high quality and would make a great gift club award.

To order your limited edition prints, please use the attached order form below.
